

Umbria, Italy: The Monti Sibillini Nationalpark

*Il Collaccio: countryside holidays
for all budgets.*

This is the real Italy!

*Right in the depths of tranquil Umbrian Countryside, criss-crossed by peaceful lanes linking sleepy little villages,
Il Collaccio is a heaven for relaxation and good living.*

An outstanding agricultural resort in the Monti Sibillini National Park. Italy.

Countryside holidays spend as much as you like.

"Il Collaccio" was a farm that has been recently transformed into a holiday centre: swimming pool, bungalow, chalets, apartments, the small restaurant and even a cosy country inn. Since the Monti Sibillini National Park was founded Il

Collaccio has become the perfect base for nature fans. Today offers hospitality for every different taste, at very different costs.

"...il Casale Grande, the massive stone clubhouse..."

"...the chalets are very comfortable wooden houses..."

"...the rooms are complete with original thirties furniture..."

For young people and outdoor fans: the campsite.

Those preferring outdoor life can take advantage of Collaccio's wonderful campsite which still maintains its delicious countryside atmosphere and lies under the Casale Grande, the massive stone clubhouse. No packing guests like sardines or too much noise. Camper and caravan are divided in small groups and every parking area has between 60 and 90 square metres of green around. In all, over 100,000 square metres, there are no more than 100 pitches, plus a dozen bungalows and large tent areas with electricity and water. Toilets, of course are, are hygienic and efficient. Camper service is provided.

La Foresteria: for students on a budget and groups alike.

La Foresteria, an annex at about 3 Km. from Il

Collaccio, is ideally suited for young travellers and schools. The building, totally restored, has ten large rooms with en suite bathroom, and four, six or ten bunk beds for a total of 65 people. What's more there is a spacious dining room, a big living room with chimney, and a fully equipped kitchen. The low cost of staying at La Foresteria make it the ideal place for groups of young people wanting to eat for themselves.

Bungalows and chalets.

The bungalows, small wooden cabins open out onto the main swimming-pool, are made up of a room and a veranda. On the veranda tables and chairs to eat outside, in the room 4 beds (1 double bed and 1 bunk bed) and a small cooking corner with fridge. Near the cabins a common toilet/shower building. The chalets on the other hand are comfortable wooden houses with all the facilities you need. A living room, two bedrooms, toilet/shower and a kitchen area with stove and fridge. Of course there is a space to eat outside, in the sweet Umbrian summer evenings.

Il Casale Piccolo: 5 nice apartments perfect for families.

In this recently restored stone building we have 5 new apartments. They are for 4 or 6 persons, with one or two bed-rooms, dining room with kitchen, toilet with shower, telephone line, television, and a nice space for eating outside in the garden. Just a few metres under it the new swimming pools with a magnificent view on the Valcastoriana and the village of Preci.

"...the cultural identity of the area..."

The Locanda: a small hotel de charme for guests who fall for Italian charm.

For two centuries it was the farmer's house, today the Locanda del Porcellino has kept all his original charm and is even covered by the shadows of the same large oak trees. The rooms many of which have terraces, are different one from the other and are furnished with original Thirties beds and armchairs. You can also find two rooms for disabled. And the best thing is the cost of this oasis of quiet and charm. Look at the price list: it is very charming indeed.

"...the swimming pool over delightful countryside..."

The Porcello Felice will fill you of joy. Even when you get the bill.

At the "Porcello Felice" the pleasure of the table has a very simple recipe: Mrs. & Mrs. Baldoni, who specialise in home cooking, it is their home after all. The food is excellent, simple and it is made from ingredients mostly produced in the area. Splendid ham and salami, lentil and farro soup, truffle pasta, stupendous mixed grills, pork and beans, grilled vegetables and other Umbrian specialities, some of which you can buy in the small bottega.

Landscapes, good food and culture: holidays in the green and weeks in the pink.

The most beautiful ancient towns of Umbria (Spoleto, Assisi, Todi, Gubbio, Orvieto, Perugia etc.) are not far: it takes about one hour to get there by car. Even closer, all around, the valley of Valnerina is extremely rich in culture.

There are artistic and natural treasures that few people knows such as the Abbey of St. Eutizio and the untouched medieval villages in Valcastoriana. Il Collaccio is more the keen on preserving the cultural identity of the area. This is why we invest in rediscovering of traditional Umbrian cooking. This is why we have at the Easter and Nex Year a "Pink week" (a course in the art of making hams and salamis) which unites culture and good food.

"...in the Monti Sibillini National Park..."

Naturally, if you must, you can take some strenuous exercise. At Il Collaccio the restless will find lots of things to do. Aside the splendid country walks on the Monti Sibillini, Il Collaccio has a small foot-ball pitch, a volley-ball court, bowls, mountain-bikes, an excellent tennis court and two nice swimming-pools overlooking delightful countryside. You can even take up hang-gliding and paragliding. The rivers Nera and Corno are perfect for canoeing and rafting. You can free-climbing in Ferentillo at only 40 Kilometres away and the nearby village of Ussita has one of the most large ice-palace in Italy. Then if you can't stay still at night, there is an excellent disco only half an hour drive away.

"...children's needs are specially catered for..."

We love kids at Il Collaccio.

We've thought a lot about children: there are two mini swimming-pools just for them, and a play area where they can enjoy themselves under their parents watchful gaze. There are even mini toilets near the pool. At Il Collaccio kids run wild in the fresh air, make new friends and discover new things: first of all the pleasure of living in the countryside. An experience they'll thank you for and will never ever forget.
